ABOUT THE COVER

The cover of this issue of The Gear is taken from the Fraternity's new promotional poster and coordinated brochure. The brochure is used to inform prospective members about the Fraternity, and the poster to publicize recruitment activities and other chapter events. Both are offered in full color to chapters.

DIRECTORY DISTRIBUTED

The 2000 Membership Directory book was mailed to recipients in August. The CD-ROM version is being distributed as this issue of The Gear goes to press. In addition to the alphabetic listing for each member in the Address Section of the book, the Chapter Section lists all initiates into the Fraternity, and the Geographic Section includes job codes for respondents.

YOUR SUGGESTIONS SOUGHT

The Editor always welcomes articles, photographs, and information about members doing interesting or unusual things professionally or personally. Share what has happened in your life.

The Theta Tau Alumni Hall of Fame was established in 1986 to recognize those who have made significant contributions to Theta Tau and/or to their chosen professions. The suggestion of yourself or of others who should be considered for this honor should be directed to the Theta Tau Central Office. Names and information will be referred to a chapter or the Executive Council for nomination. Since its inception, sixty-one alumni have been so honored, beginning with the four Founders, recognizing ones as varied as an astronaut, educators, inventors, corporate and civic leaders — all fine examples of Brothers.

WEALUMNI.COM

Version 2.0 of the Wealumni.com site should be running soon. Please be sure to visit to claim your account. You can obtain your @ThetaTau.net email address and explore other options and services to customize the page to be of most benefit to you.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The Fraternity is seeking interested alumni to assist with short-term or on-going projects of need and interest to the Fraternity. Projects are related to technology, oversight, evaluation, or program development. All will require that you work with others from the Fraternity, but do not inherently involve travel. Please contact the Central Office if you have interest or availability.

We are very proud to recognize our first Newark Electronics / Theta Tau Educational Foundation Scholarship winners. Newark, the largest small order, high service distributor of electronics components in North America, entered into an agreement with the Foundation to provide scholarships to Theta Tau members this year. The first place recipient received $3,000, the others $1,000 each.

Applicants must have been a member for at least six months, be in good standing with the chapter, and have taken at least twelve credit hours during the term. Scholarship applicants were judged by representatives of Theta Tau and Newark based upon their scholastic achievement, involvement in campus and community activities, and professional and personal goals.

Theta Tau's goals of assisting our Brothers and recognizing and fostering high academic achievement among members is strengthened through this program. Similarly, Newark's goal of forging a strong relationship with educational communities is enhanced through association with the educational foundation. Newark is also assisting Theta Tau with the Rube Goldberg Machine Contest.

Brian P. McGowan is a mechanical Engineering major at Purdue University. He currently is Vice-Regent of his chapter and the 2000 Homecoming Committee Chairman. He has participated in intramurals and philanthropic projects for his chapter. He has served as Director of Freshman Programs for the ter as Vice-Regent, Social Committee Chair, and Webmaster. He has also participated in philanthropic and professional development activities for his chapter. Kevin is a member of Upsilon Pi Epsilon Computer Honor Society, IEEE, and ACM. After graduation Kevin plans to pursue a career in computer security.

Laura Ann Smith, the first place winner, is a bioengineering major at The University of Toledo. She has served her chapter as Philanthropy Co-Chair. Laura has also served as Vice President of the Biomedical Engineering Society, Social Justice Co-Chair of the Catholic Students Association, Chair of Tradition Development of the Engineering Council, and on the Bioengineering Student Advisory Committee at The University of Toledo. She is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, Tau Beta Pi, and Phi Kappa Phi. She plans to pursue a Master of Science Degree in Bioengineering and then work in private industry developing better medical treatments and techniques.

DURING ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING

During the 1999-2000 school year, Theta Tau pursued extension from the East Coast to the West Coast. As reported in the last issue of The Gear, a colony was certified at Clemson University, Clemson, SC, in November 1999. Three additional colonies were certified during the spring semester.

An informal meeting was held prior to each official ceremony so that the new colony members would have an opportunity to become better acquainted with members of Theta Tau, the Grand Regent, and their Regional Directors. Grand Regent Lee C. Haas presided at the certification ceremonies. Many alumni and student members attended the three colony certifications that took place during spring semester. A total of 34 students were initiated into these three colonies on the days of the certifications. Each new colony has plans for a strong rush program for the 2000-2001 school year. All are on their way to increasing their membership numbers, increasing their visibility and involvement on campus and within their respective engineering schools, and beginning work on their petitions for chapter status.

The Fraternity welcomes these new colonies and looks forward to the day each may become a chapter of Theta Tau.

The University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown Colony of Theta Tau was certified April 18, 2000. The certification ceremony and banquet were held in the Student Union on the campus in Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

The University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown was founded in 1927 as one of the first regional campuses of a major university. In 1970 the school was given degree-granting privileges and became a full undergraduate college. At this time, the School of Engineering at the University of Pittsburgh established a Bachelor of Science Program in Engineering Technology at the Johnstown campus with the idea that Pitt would have a research/science based program and Johnstown would have a program that emphasized the application of engineering.

The local engineering group at UP-J was started by two students Brandon Myers and Glenn Martinson as a creative way of fulfilling the requirement for a class design project as well as the personal need they identified on campus for an engineering fraternity. They contacted Theta Tau after a review of national engineering fraternities. Colony members occupy university-owned fraternity housing centrally located on campus. The colony joins the seven chapters in the Fraternity's Atlantic Region.

The State University of New York at Buffalo Colony was certified April 29, 2000, with the certification ceremony being held in Baldy Hall on the University at Buffalo campus. The banquet was held at the Center for Tomorrow, also on the campus in Buffalo, NY. The University at Buffalo, founded in 1846 as a private institution, became the State University of New York at Buffalo in 1962. In 1921 the University at Buffalo added an engineering curriculum, and in 1946 the Department of Engineering separated from the College of Arts and Sciences to form the School of Engineering and Applied Sciences.

This colony grew out of the local engineering fraternity Gamma Delta Epsilon which was formed with assistance from Gamma Beta Chapter and the Central Office on April 21, 1999.

As a local fraternity and as a colony, the group has been involved in Habitat for Humanity and in establishing campus-wide traditions, such as the Engineers' Ball and the Rube Goldberg Machine Contest, for all engineering students. Stephanie Asip serves as the group's President.

The University of Washington Colony was certified on May 27, 2000. Both the certification ceremony and dinner were held at the Courtyard by Marriott. The University of Washington was founded in 1861 and became a state university in 1889. The College of Engineering has been a major unit of the University since 1899 and currently offers ten undergraduate engineering degrees. The colony has raised funds by working at Mariners and Seahawks games. Colony members have bonded through community service efforts, a canoe trip on Lake Washington, and the campus Student Activities Fair. The colony traces its roots to a visit by Executive Director Abraham on October 29, 1998, when Theta Tau Sigma local engineering fraternity was formed with UW students and the help of several local alumni of Eta Gamma Chapter including former Western Regional Director and Eta Gamma charter member Adam Pederson. Justyn Egert and Aaron Hinshaw have served the group as President.

The colony at UW joins the eight chapters that constitute the Western Region of the Fraternity. Theta Tau looks forward to the time that this colony may be installed as its re-established chapter at the University of Washington.

As Theta Tau approaches the centennial celebration of its founding in 1904, it is apparent that many of our Brothers in Theta Tau have promoted our Fraternity to their siblings, children, and other relatives. We note with pleasure an increasing number of prospective members who list siblings, parents, grandparents, and other relatives as members of Theta Tau on their Pledge Forms sent to our Central Office for processing. There are numerous two-generation Theta Tau families and several three-generation Theta Tau families that have been identified. Omicron Chapter can claim the Ashton Family, one of the largest Theta Tau families on record. George and Blanche Ashton had three sons who were initiated as student members of Omicron Chapter in the 1920s. George C.

Ashton, Omicron '23, was a charter member of his chapter, and his brothers Edward L. Ashton, Omicron '25, and Frank W. Ashton, Omicron '30, soon followed him to Iowa and to membership in Theta Tau. Brother Frank Ashton's twin sons, George D. Ashton, Omicron '61, and William D. Ashton, Omicron '62, as well as son James E. Ashton, Omicron '64, also followed in the now-established family tradition of Theta Tau membership. The sons of Brother William Ashton followed their father, uncles, and great uncles to the University of Iowa and also joined Omicron Chapter. His sons are David J. Ashton, Omicron '88, and Steven W. Ashton, Omicron '95. Not only does the Ashton family hold the distinction of having eight of its members as Theta Tau initiates, two of these members are Theta Tau Alumni Hall of Fame Laureates. In 1991

ALL IN THE FAMILY

James was inducted into the Hall of Fame for contributions to his profession. Edward was inducted in 1993 for contributions to his profession and to Theta Tau.

Howard J. Barth, Phi '38, was initiated into Theta Tau at Purdue University. His son Stephen J. Barth, Lambda Beta '67, was initiated as a charter member of the chapter at Tennessee Technological University. Brother Steve Barth was elected Grand Outer Guard in 1972, Grand Vice-Regent in 1974, and Grand Regent in 1976, becoming the first second-generation Theta Tau to hold this position. Steve was inducted into the Theta Tau Alumni Hall of Fame in 1988, and continues to serve the Fraternity as Director of the Alumni Hall of Fame. In 1998, Drew Stephen Barth, Phi '01, was initiated into Theta Tau at Purdue.

Mu Chapter at the University of Alabama has a family with five members spanning three generations. Student members Kerri M. Keith, Mu '02 and her brother Warren T. Keith, Mu '03, report that their grandfather was Warren G. Keith, Mu '34, their father is James W.

ated as an honorary member while a professor in the Civil Engineering Department at Alabama and served as chapter Adviser during the 1940s. The Keith-Woodman Award, given annually to a UA Civil Engineering alumnus excelling in his profession, was named in his honor. Brother James W.

Keith is a Civil Engineering graduate and is a research engineer with the Alabama Department of Transportation. Brother Johnny T. Smalley is also a Civil Engineering graduate and has retired from the Alabama Department of Transportation. Following in her family's tradition, Kerri is a Civil Engineering major. Her brother Warren is in Mechanical Engineering.

Director also has Theta Tau roots. His great great grandfather Arthur E. Seaman, Beta 1895, was initiated as an honorary member in 1923 while a professor at Michigan College of Mines, now Michigan Technological University. The Seaman Mineralogical Museum on the MTU campus, recognized worldwide as one of the premier crystal collections in North America, was named in honor of Brother Seaman who headed the Michigan Tech Department of Geology and was curator of the museum for many years. Brother Rooker's grandfather is Lawrence B. Farnum, Beta '41.

If your family includes Theta Tau members from three or more generations, The Gear wants to feature it in a subsequent issue. Please submit information and photo(s).

MIKLOFSKY: ENGINEER / MUSICIAN

Who said "Life stops at retirement"? Haaren A. Miklofsky, Gamma Beta '46, certainly didn't. Professor Emeritus of Civil Engineering at the University of Arizona, Brother Miklofsky leads a full life as a musician and conductor. He is the director of three musical groups: the Rhythm Gang, a dance band of 20 instrumentalists plus singers specializing in big-band favorites; Music Tasters Salon Orchestra, an 18-piece orchestra playing pit music; and Sweetheart and Her Pals, a 3- to 5-piece combo; performing throughout the southwestern states. He utilizes the vast library of musical scores he has acquired.

WIFE ESTHER

Brother Miklofsky says his interest in music stems from the efforts of a sixth grade teacher to have him take up an instrument to channel his energies from being disruptive in class. His mother provided lessons for him at the Eastman School of Music. By the end of the school year, in recognition of his improved behavior, he was given the honor of directing the school band in Sousa's Stars and Stripes Forever. Beginning with violin, he added saxophone and trumpet to his musical accomplishments.

In addition to his conducting duties, he plays trumpet with the Tucson Concert Band, and violin with the Civic Orchestra of Tucson.

His wife Esther Shannon is still employed under contract for the Federal Highway Administration. They enjoy line dancing and continue to attend classes at the University of Arizona where their daughter Miriam is a first-year graduate student in computer science.

CHAPTER HOUSE DESIGN CONTEST

by Dennis Bashur, EB '91

Xi Beta kicked off the Spring 2000 term at Lawrence Technological University by sponsoring a competition to design a house for the chapter. The Theta Tau Educational Foundation matched gifts from Xi Beta Chapter alumni to promote the competition. A total of $2,750 in scholarships was presented. Working with Professor David Chasco from the LTU School of Architecture, Xi Beta alumni Dennis Bashur, George Kostopoulos, and Dave Stevanovski developed the guidelines for the competition. The design was to allow for up to 3,500 square feet with residence accommodations for a minimum of five persons. The house design also had to be expandable for future additions. For the competition, an undefined budget allowed creativity in entrants' designs.

Several entries were received and the winners were chosen on April 15. A first place cash award was given to LTU sophomore architecture students Jodi Stockwell and Andrew Csorba. Their unique winning design incorporated a theme of "Social vs. Private." A central corridor between two curved walls divided the house and separated the social areas from the private bedrooms, conference room, and library. The social areas included a central kitchen surrounded by the dining room, living room, and great room. A second place cash award was given to students John Cesal and Eric Stalter and an honorable mention was awarded to student Geoff Gamsby.

Xi Beta's house corporation is currently interviewing architectural firms to build the first place house design. Each firm was asked to submit a proposal based on a finished house value of $300,000 with five bedrooms. The first place design students, Jodi and Andrew, have also been invited to work with the firm chosen to help maintain their theme and to finalize the house design. The house corporation is also negotiating a long term lease with LTU for 1.2 acres next to the campus, and a groundbreaking ceremony is being planned for the spring of 2001. It is estimated that the new chapter house could be completed by the end of next year. Thanks go out to the members of Theta Tau who have contributed their time and money to the effort. Your continued support is needed and appreciated. Donations can be made to: Orchard Housing Corp., 2324 Heritage Pointe Dr., Sterling Heights, MI 48314.

JULY 4TH ON THE MALL

by Tushar Shah, ΓΒ '01

A chapter tradition became an annual "national event" when Gamma Beta in 1993 first invited those of other chapters to join its student members and alumni for a day of fellowship while celebrating our nation's independence with nearly a half million others on the Mall in Washington. Pictured below are some of the 65 Theta Taus gathered at the foot of the Washington Monument facing the reflecting pool and the Lincoln Memorial on a recent Fourth. Before 11 a.m., members of Gamma Beta stake out its territory marked by a white tent flying the Theta Tau flag. Sandwiches and cold fried chicken are consumed along with much water in the hot and humid weather. The day is filled with card games, volleyball, juggling, and frisbee or football interspersed with trips to the nearby Smithsonian to cool off. At dusk, the National Symphony plays on the Capitol steps while breathtaking fireworks explode above the Washington Monument. For information on this and other activities of the chapter, visit its website at <http://tangle.seas.gwu.edu/~thetatau/>

ΘT RUBE GOLDBERG CONTEST

Complicated machines to accomplish a simple task abounded at the thirteenth annual National Theta Tau Rube Goldberg Machine Contest held at Purdue University, West Lafayette, Indiana. Built in the tradition of the drawings of the noted cartoonist, machines from seven universities were entered in the national competition. This year's winner was The University of Texas at Austin. Placing second was The University of Toledo. Third place went to Purdue University. The Toledo entry also won the People's Choice award.

Other universities in the contest this year were: Hofstra University, Hempstead, New York; Northern Illinois University, De Kalb, Illinois; Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan; and Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee. Each entry in the national competition had won a local contest held on its own campus earlier this spring. The contest originated as a local competition between Theta Tau and Triangle Fraternity at Purdue in 1949.

Through a series of at least 20 complex steps, this year's task was to fill and seal a time capsule with at least seven objects representing life in the year 2000 with the expectation that the capsule would be opened in 3000. Once started, each machine was designed to operate without human intervention through the many (generally 35-45) steps.

Corporate sponsors this year were Newark Electronics and Dell Computer. Popular Science magazine has called these contests Goldberg's greatest legacy as they challenge students and young inventors to show scientific creativity and imagination.

THETA TAU'S BRIDGE?

The Stone Arch Bridge across the Mississippi in downtown Minneapolis was completed in 1883. It was built by the St. Paul, Minneapolis, Manitoba Railroad Company, known later as the Great Northern Railroad.

Likely this bridge, representing a fine engineering achievement in the latter years of the 19th century, inspired the early members of our Fraternity when they adopted the Theta Tau Coat of Arms in 1906.

Closed for renovation, the bridge was reopened at the end of October 1994. This venerable structure now provides the Twin Cities area its first span over the river dedicated exclusively to recreation. It is a key link in the region's trail network. The bridge affords those on foot, on bikes, or on roller blades a dramatic vista of the river and the city's skyline. The only motor vehicle allowed on the roadway now is the RiverCity Trolley which provides passengers a tour of the historic downtown area.

The symbol of the bridge on the Fraternity's Coat of Arms continues to inspire Theta Tau's initiates.
